

UNED Inequality and Social Demography Seminar Series

at UNED Madrid, Associated Center Gregorio Marañón

Program

Fall Semester 2023/24

Organized by Fabrizio Bernardi (UNED)

18th October Wednesday from 19:00 to 20:30

Alessandro Ferrara (Freie University/WZB, Berlín)

Immigrant-native differences in perinatal health: measuring the role of immigrant selectivity in Spain

22nd November Wednesday from 19:00 to 20:30

Berkay Ozcan (London School of Economics, London)

The Concentration of Children and its Consequence for Inequality and Poverty

from 19:00 to 20:30

Room 7, UNED Madrid, Associated Center Gregorio Marañón (Lavapiés)

Calle de Argumosa, 3 Madrid

The UNED Inequality and Social Demography seminar is held monthly. The session of the fall semester 2022/23 benefits from the support of the Faculty of Political Science and Sociology at UNED and of Centro Asociado Gregorio Marañón de la UNED in Madrid.

To be included in the mailing list and receive information on future sessions, please send an email to: Manuel T. Valdés (mvaldes@poli.uned.es) or Mar C. Espadafor (mcanizares@poli.uned.es).